Yes, we are back, having enjoyed six marvelous months in Australia.
We have learned so much in that time and trust that the exchange has been as beneficial to you. Thank you to all of you who made the Purdie family feel so welcome here. If there is any truth in the rumour, they will be wanting to return on the next available plane! Our hope is that the lessons that have been mutually learned may not merely enrich our understanding but also challenge us into action.
